CONGRESSIONAL HAPPENINGS IN WASHINGTON

By CLARENCE J. BROWN
Member of Congress

Precedent has been broken again. For the first time a President of the United States has taken his oath of office for a fourth term. The ceremonies took place on the south porch of the White House Saturday noon before some seven thousand dignitaries who watched Franklin Delano Roosevelt take his oath of office administered by Chief Justice Harlan F. Stone. The President's inaugural address was the shortest ever delivered by any President, requiring less than five minutes. The whole ceremony ran but slightly more than twenty minutes.

The President is expected to meet with Prime Minister Churchill of Great Britain and Premier Stalin of Russia within the very near future in what will undoubtedly be one of the most historic conferences of modern times. Premier Stalin has consistently refused to leave Russia for any joint meetings and it is, therefore, expected the conference will be held in that country. As a result of the great Russian victories of the past two weeks on the Eastern Front, Premier Stalin will be in good bargaining position when it comes to diagramming postwar boundaries and conditions will be in Europe. Congressmen are hopeful they, and the American people as a whole, will be given much more information as to what transpires at the coming conference than they received following the Tehran Conference of a little more than a year ago. There is a growing demand in Congressional circles that Mr. Roosevelt follow in the footsteps of his distinguished predecessor, Woodrow Wilson, and adopt the policy of "Open covenants openly arrived at." This has been a people's war, and it should be a people's peace.

The Administration proposal to put all men between eighteen and forty-five or eighteen and sixty, under control of the War Relocation Commission, and require them to work when and where directed, at wages approved by government officials, or be placed in "labor battalions" to work under military discipline, is encountering a bit of rough sailing on Capitol Hill. Both management and labor are opposed to the program, insisting it will not work. Others are pointing out the real cause of present war material shortages is not the failure of either industry or labor to produce, but rather due to the mistakes of the Commander-in-Chief and his subordinates in underestimating military needs and in cancelling or reducing war orders. While the President has announced that but few—if any—of the dictatorial powers provided in the legislation will be used unless absolutely necessary, many national legislators are not unimpressed of the way other powers granted in the past; with the same understanding, have been abused. The Congress is ready and willing to do whatever may be necessary to supply our fighting forces with their every need, but believe a more American way than the Administration's suggested plan can be found to obtain the desired results.

The pot is boiling here in Washington over the recent order to local Selective Service Boards relative to agricultural deferments. Last Tuesday one hundred and seventy-five Congressmen had General Hershey before them in an attempt to learn why so many young farmers are drafted despite the provisions of the Selective Service Act and the Tydings Amendment thereto. Hershey insisted the Tydings Amendment is still law and that the order was not in contradiction thereof. He places the responsibility on the local boards to pass upon essentially all farm workers. The law of the United States, as passed by Congress and still in force, specifically exempts farm workers, for whom satisfactory replacements cannot be obtained, and whose induction would result in land lying idle or a material reduction in food production. No one except Congress can get aside the law. General Hershey even told the Congressional group that approximately one-half of the young men between eighteen and twenty-five deferred for agricultural purposes would be in the armed forces before July 1st. There are many instances, where, after a local board has refused to order induction of a farm worker, the Government has appealed the finding and the State or National Board has ordered induction. Heads are demanding a clarification of the recent order sent the local boards. The Military Affairs Committee of the House interrupted its hearings on national draft legislation

Samuel Kyle Died Saturday

Samuel Kyle, 95, former Cedarvillean, died at his home in Xenia, Saturday, ending the life association of the oldest twins in the state. The funeral was held Monday from that city with burial in Woodland Cemetery.

Death was due to infirmities and life departed at the home where the two brothers resided.

The twins were born March 7, 1849 the youngest of seven children of David and Eleanor Collins Kyle. The family lived on what is now the

In 1860 the family moved to Xenia where the father engaged in the nursery business. Later the Kyle brothers became associated in the business and one of the jobs they always remembered was planting trees on the present fair grounds, many of which still stand today to shade the grounds.

Six years after the family moved to Xenia, Samuel went to Iowa, where he engaged in the nursery business from 1886 to 1916. His brother, William went to Saskatchewan in 1880 to prospect gold, but in 1908 joined his brother in the nursery business in Iowa. In 1916 both went to Montana where they were associated in operating a cattle ranch near Miles City until 1935 when they returned to Xenia.

Both were widowers and kept their own residences in Xenia. They did all the housework and cooking, and would argue who was the best cook.

William, the surviving twin, was injured by an automobile five years ago, but recovered.

Both brothers attributed their long life to a calmness of spirit. They had as their motto: "Never get nervous or excited about anything. Try to keep calm at all times and you will live longer."

Their early recollections was when they had the opportunity of shaking hands with President-elect Lincoln, when his train stopped in Xenia en route to Washington.

Samuel's twin brother is the only immediate survivor, although there are a number of nieces and nephews, including William's two children, David M. near Xenia, and Mary, a United Presbyterian missionary to India.

Widow of Charles Flatter Dies at 77

Mrs. Mary A. Flatter, 77, Cedarville, died Sunday at 8:25 p. m. She had been in failing health for a number of years and critically ill the past 10 days.

Mrs. Flatter was a member of the Clifton Presbyterian Church. Her husband died in 1896.

Survivors are a daughter, Bertha Ault at home, and a son, Ernest J. at home.

The funeral was held Wednesday afternoon from the Littleton-Yoder funeral home, Yellow Springs, where Mrs. Flatter was laid in state. Burial in the Clifton cemetery.

Mrs. Bradford 'Heads Co. Board

Mrs. Ernest Bradford, Beaver Creek Twp., the first woman ever to serve as president of the Greene County school board, was re-elected to that position and all other officers were retained at the 1945 reorganization meeting. She has been a board member since 1943 and was named its president a year ago.

Paul Brown, Sugar Creek Twp., was chosen vice president again and Supt. S. O. Liming is clerk by virtue of his office. The other members of the board are Myron Fudge, Silver Creek Twp., Lewis Freye, Xenia Twp., and Raymond H. Cherry, Cedarville Twp.

A note from James H. Creswell, who is spending the winter with his daughter, Mrs. Albert C. Lyle, Marietta, Ark., we note that he observed his 83rd birthday on Jan. 16. Mr. Creswell has the distinction of being probably the oldest resident of the community and one of the few that can say he did much of the clearing and drainage on the land he has operated for nearly three quarters of a century. The farm is located at the junction of the Jamestown-Cedarville and Federal pikes. His brothers are A. H. Creswell, W. H. Creswell and G. H. Creswell, whose combined ages pass 315 years. His friends wish him continued good health during his future years.

TYSON GETS QUARRY SITE

As a result of negotiations over the past two years, H. A. Tyson of London, Ohio, owner of the Hagar Straw Board & Paper Co. plant and lands, has purchased the old Ervin quarry property on Xenia Avenue west of town. Plans for development of this property will be announced later in this newspaper.

WILL SPARE NEITHER MAN OR BEAST SAYS SEN. STEWART

Senator Stewart, Dem., Tenn., says he will spare neither man or beast to run down the dog properly squabbling that has turned into a national scandal. Sen. Maybrock, Dem., S. Carolina and Senator Bridges, R. N. H., are a sub committee to investigate not only who issued the priority for the Roosevelt dog but the system of issuing such authority.

This same committee should also give the public the reason why the New Deal issues authority for shipments of rum and brandy from Cuba and not sugar as well.

EGG AUCTION ORGANIZATION FORMED

Definite steps to organize an egg auction to serve southwest Ohio was taken at a meeting of poultrymen at the hotel Metropole in Cincinnati on January 12. Nelson Moore, chairman, and Ernest Smith, secretary of the Greene County committee attended the meeting along with representatives from 10 Ohio counties and 9 Indiana counties.

Counties present pledged more than 100 cases of eggs weekly to the auction. Harold Koker of Clermont county, Ohio, was elected chairman; Yavner Irwin, Jefferson County, Indiana; vice chairman; Verle Doty, Franklin County, Indiana, secretary; and Mrs. George Johnson of Brown County, O., location, finance and membership, treasurer.

Five committees were named, namely procurement equipment and personnel, and constitution and by-laws. The next meeting of the area committee will be held at Cincinnati, February 9.

SPRING FARROWINGS OFF 19 PER CENT

The Ohio 1944 combined spring and fall pig crops saved were the largest on record, being exceeded only by the 1942 and 1943 crops. The year's crop was 19 per cent below the record 1943 crop but was 17 per cent above the 10 year (1933-42) average.

Farmers of the state have bred or intend to breed 19 per cent fewer sows to farrow in the spring of 1945 than farrowed in the spring of 1944. If these intentions are carried out the number of sows farrowing next spring will be the smallest since 1938. With a more favorable feed situation in other parts of the country the intentions to breed for 1945 spring farrowings are down only seven percent for the United States and two percent for the Corn Belt.

W. F. A. WANTS MORE PIGS

The War Food Administration last week asked hog producers with adequate feed supplies to keep additional sows for farrowing next spring to help meet the goal for spring pigs. At the same time they announced the extension of the present support price of $12.50, Chicago basis for good to choice butcher hogs weighing 200 to 270 pounds to March 31, 1946. In order to reach this goal, hog producers would need to increase the number of sows farrowing next spring by about 11 percent over the number planned, as indicated by the December pig crop report.

Emphasis will be placed on ways of maintaining livestock industry in spite of last year's corn crop at Farmers' Week, January 30, 31 and Feb. 1. The use of roughage, silage and pasture in meat and milk production will be given a prominent place on the program.

The equipment used at the University to artificially dry hay will be shown to stockmen. Likewise the cooperative plan to expand the production and testing program with dairymen and the progress of the artificial insemination associations in the state will be explained.

FEWER CORN BORERS LAST YEAR

The fall survey of the corn borer situation in Ohio shown an average decrease of more than 50 percent in borer infestation in 1944. The decrease is said to be due to the dry weather last June, July and August when many of the first generation borers were killed.

Conditions for second generation borers were more favorable and at the present time there are sufficient numbers of borers in corn stalks to provide serious damage this year if weather condition should be favorable.

POULTRY PRICES

Poultry prices for sale made by farmers direct to consumers or ultimate user have been announced by the OPA for the month of January. Live wt. price for broilers, fryers and roasters are 35 cents per pound and for hens 32 cents. Table dressed prices for broiler and fryers are 58 cent per pound, roasters 65 cent and hens 50 cents per pound.

FARM PRICES HIGHEST SINCE 1920

Prices received by farmers in the month ending December 15, were the highest since Sept. 1920. The index was up four points in a month and stood at 200 percent of the 1910-14 base. Prices paid by farmers remained at 171 percent of their 1910-14 average.

NEWS IN DOG TOWN

Yes, it is "Dog Days in January."

The old story of a "Man biting a dog" being good news copy, is outdone by the latest "Blaze" dog story that carried a priority that "bumped off" three service men at Memphis two days after a similar event at Patterson Field, when another Roosevelt dog showed up with credentials that kept even officers grounded.

Using valuable airplane space to ship dogs belonging to the Royal Family right at a time when the public is asked to stay at home, is only in keeping with the old saying, "the King can do no wrong."

It is not surprising that all concerned would deny knowledge of billing a dog as cargo more important than a uniformed service man, private or officer. That is the way the war is being staged—the cheapest thing we have under the New Deal is the blood of an American youth. The theory being that you can always get more from where what we have come from.

The Herald has had a lot of fan mail and many telephone messages in complimenting us on "scooping" both the daily press and radio by five days. We have had letters from California to New York City and scores of newspaper clippings about the dog story with editorial comment and quips that are readable with interest. It has produced a lot of copy. Drew Pearson Sunday night stated over the air that he had become so disgusted that he mailed his personal check to each of the three boys that were "bumped off" at Patterson Field and forced to spend their own funds to get to their destination. Each received $77.

In reporting the Pearson statement the Dayton News referred to Pearson's statement with the comment that it had not been confirmed as yet. The News being "New Deal" had no comment in behalf of the service men or the uniform they wore.

The Thursday evening previous a Xenia paper published a story that Major Gilbert, Patterson Field, had not or would not confirm the Patterson Field event on Jan. 9th. The story out of Memphis was that of a second dog that belonged to Elliott Roosevelt which was enroute to California. The city press in the East state that both dogs were shipped by government plane from England at your expense as an income taxpayer.

Eastern reporters have just as much fun trying to find out who issued the "A" priority for the dogs. A Presidential Secretary promptly denied it came from the White House yet there was no denial by FDR. Mrs. Roosevelt did not know. Secretary Stimson who holds the chair as Secretary of War did not know. (He did admit a blunder had been made by some "subordinate" as if he was willing to take the load off the White House. Poor Grandpa Stimson. Somebody must inform him at breakfast each morning with his coffee that we are having a war today.)

Being "Dog Days in January" the Eastern reporters checked on "Fala", the Scottish that was left stranded up in Alaska and a special war craft had to be dispatched at your expense to bring him back to Seattle. Poor doggie, all alone in the frozen north, probably due to the boat crew and all aboard seasick and unimpaired that one of their party was missing.

The newsmen asked Mrs. Roosevelt where was "Fala" and she replied he was up in the country attending a wedding. A reported pertinently remarked "Well, Elliott isn't getting married again is he?"

A New York paper commenting on Fala's absence as follows:
Is Fala married? If so, the dog has deserted his wife after the briefest of honeymoons. Questioned today on the whereabouts of "Fala", Mrs. Roosevelt smiled enigmatically and said only that he was back in the White House and would attend "inauguration ceremonies on Saturday. Last Monday, she explained Fala's absence from the White House by saying: "He's in the country. We hope he's having a wedding."

Another story published was that "Fala" was at the Walter Reed Hospital, being indisposed. This Hospital was erected after the First World War for injured veterans. If Fala has a cot in that hospital someone had to issue another "priority" to bump an invalid soldier off the cot.

Sen. Styles Bridges, N. Ham. R., is to introduce a resolution in Congress asking for an investigation as to who hands out the "priorities". Well, Senator you should ask the Commander-in-Chief. If he did not list "Blaze" for the third seat section, someone under his direction and control did. If not as Commander-in-Chief he should make the investigation—which he will not. Cong. Clarence J. Brown touches on the priority issue in his column in this issue. Sen. Bridges should also include the Patterson Field incident in the congressional investigation. The committee might get a statement from Chief Marshall reports he has solved the recent thefts in the Creswell and Wells coal yard offices recently. A seventeen year old local boy was questioned and turned over to Sheriff Walton Spahr, Thursday morning. It is said two other boys have been implicated. Several robberies of rural mail boxes have been reported lately which may be traced to local talent. Those implicated have been on the streets almost nightly long after the midnight hour.

In as much as the boy who has confessed is under age no names can be used at this time.

THREE SPEEDERS OUT OF GAS—

OLINE FOR THIRTY DAYS

Three auto speeders have lost their gasoline through the county panel on charges of the state highway patrol of speeding. No gas for 30 days each. Horace M. Fahng, Xenia, 58 miles, and this was a third offense. Kenneth E. Faulkner, Jamestown, sixty miles. Frederick E. Thompson, Xenia, had his driver's license taken up for thirty days as the gasoline permit had been issued to his father, G. Fred Thompson.

HONORS FOR LOCAL FLIER

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Nelson, whose son S. Sgt. John W. Nelson, was killed in action July 6, 1944, were informed Monday they are to receive a posthumous Air Medal award by an officer from Fort Hayes, Columbus, the time of the ceremony to be set in the near future.

They also have received a Memorial Certificate from President Roosevelt which states in part: "He stands in the unbroken line of patriots who have dared to die that freedom might live and glow and increase its blessings. Freedom lives and through it, he lives—in a way that humbles the understanding of most men."

A Citation of Honor has been received in addition from Gen. H. H. Arnold of the Army Air Force. A Purple Heart award was received recently. Sgt. Nelson was formerly employed as a civilian at Patterson Field, and was inducted Feb. 16, '43. He graduated from the gunnery school at Kingman, Ariz. and went over seas in March, 1944.

He was a graduate of the local high school and was an athlete that gave the local basketball and baseball teams many a victory. He was on his 26th mission as a gunner when killed in action.

Judge Reversed Local Court

Mayor H. H. Abels court was reversed in a decision handed down by Common Pleas Judge Frank L. Johnson. Monday, when Robert Tucker, Cedarville, was found guilty last August on a charge of driving while intoxicated. Tucker had two trials before the mayor, one the jury disagreed and a conviction on the second. Both were jury cases and the panel drawn by the local court. Mayor Abels assessed a fine of $150 and costs with thirty days in jail.

Judge Johnson held the court erred in not having his jury drawn from the county jury wheel. The mayor proceeded under a village ordinance passed some years ago.

According to a statement by Mayor Abels, Judge Johnson remanded the case back to the local court, not passing on the guilt or innocence of the defendant. Mayor Abels says he can order a new trial, taking the names of jurors from the county jury wheel or he can test the case by appealing Judge Johnson's decision to the Court of Appeals. In either case the defendant still faces conviction or acquittal based on a new trial or a decision from a higher court.

Illness of Five Days Is Fatal

Frank E. Corey, 66 Springfield, who was well known in the dairy industry, died at his home in that city, Monday, following a five days illness. He was one of the founders of the Citizens Dairy Co.

Mr. Corey was born in Clark county Feb. 25, 1878, the son of Edward C. and Cosmella Sellers Corey, and had resided in Clark county all of his life. He was a member of the Clifton Presbyterian Church, Clifton and the P. GUAM of Pichin.

He is survived by his widow, Katherine E., two daughters, Mrs. Samuel A. Bownia and Mrs. Robert P. Morean, of Springfield two sisters, Mrs. Clark Crabb, Springfield; and Mrs. Charles Murphey, Urbana, and five grandchildren.

The funeral service was held from the Richards Funeral Home, Springfield, Thursday morning, in charge of Dr. ohn W. Bickett of the United Presbyterian Church. Burial took place in Clifton Cemetery.

XENIA AVE.

For once the Commander-in-Chief is in retirement. So is Mrs. Commander-in-Chief. It is wonderful the power and influence a dog can have over the general public.

The Miami Valley Co-operative Milk Producers Association has suspended the making of butter for one week so far as civilian use was concerned. The company made 130,000 pounds of butter during 1944 and must turn over 150,000 pounds during 1945. Thirty-four percent of the independent retail stores in the larger cities carried no butter during December, according to the company management.

Now that the OPA has placed land and cooking oils under ration points one cannot help but recall the action of the price fixers past summer when several million pounds of land was ordered turned over to soap companies. Dealers were stocked to the roof with land. These were the days when the farmer could not ship his hogs without a "priority date." Now the nation is anxious to know what has become of the surplus land with millions of hogs being slaughtered annually and the government purchasing substitute for land for army use?

Reports are in circulation that the OPA is considering increasing the points on butter. Farm products get the black-eye by every move the OPA makes as well as the New Deal. The damage to the dairy investment is the New Deal theory of changing the public taste for food products. The sooner the dairy farmer takes the same plan of reducing his output and demanding a higher price for what he sells just as labor organizations do, the sooner dairy farmers will have a better hold on the market he must supply. When the time comes that a government recognizes a directive of less tires today than two years ago for a days work, then the farmer can only get what is to him by reducing his dairy production. Necessity forced a reduction in the hog output and now the WFA wants more production with less and higher priced farm labor for the coming year. One farmer tells us he lost his help to the war factory so has cut his brood sows from 30 to six and will cut his corn acreage in proportion this spring. This farmer is not only doing something for himself with a shorter work week, but is aiding all other farmers by creating more demand for pork. Hot air comes from Washington and pork from the farms.

Donald Nelson, former mail order executive, must be a man after Roosevelt's own heart. He headed the War Production Board for a time until the big boys got jealous of one another as to who was getting the most of the drag. Roosevelt then sent Donald on to chat with Stalin and also to China to see what progress the Communists were making in that country, the rulers not feeling kindly to advice from the New Dealers. About that time it began to leak out that Mrs. Nelson had suspicions that New Deal life in Washington was not what she had experienced even in Chicago. Talk of a divorce soon spread and it was not long until the name of a second party figured in the story, a 26-year old in dear old Washington where a divorce will get you a government job and the reputation of a double-standard life makes you eligible for a life membership in the New Deal. Mrs. Nelson has her divorce and now the Mr. is to marry soon, "ala-Roosevelt." Marriage under the New Deal is sort of a legal ceremony to escape violation of the laws of bigamy. Nelson is now one of the top advisors and wears a White House crown along with Hopkins and Hillman.

We are one of the few that do not have to work about where the next package of cigarettes is coming from. A smoker of good cigars is now well out to the day of the boyhood hand-made "penny-royal" which has started many a lad of teen years on the road to the burley leaf product. The New Deal has changed the taste of what a man must smoke. Now we read that the feminine sex that became a friend for the cigarette that cannot be found at all times have taken to the pipe. Now pipes are hard to purchase due to the unusual demand. It must sound good to the male and female smokers to read about how many cigarettes can be purchased in France and England—lend lease at 50¢ a pack, so the Service men report. Over here you are told the Service men get the first call. Smokers are to face this shortage for at least two years, say cigarette manufacturers. When you do not grow tobacco you cannot use a substitute for smoking tobacco. One thing is certain, the New Deal is never going to ration cigarettes or any tobacco product.

The dog story and priorities has been a public service. It now developed that priorities have been issued for shipment of liquor to high ranking officers serving in Europe. Even electric refrigeration units have been installed in airplanes to keep liquor cool enroute for those traveling on the sacred Roosevelt priority. Other evidence coming up is that electrical refrigeration in small units have been made in this country and paid for by the government that liquors at officers headquarters in Europe can be cooled. That is one reason why you have gasoline rationing. Most of the units on the field had to be operated by gasoline power where there was no electricity. This should be good news to the New Dealer that preaches temperance.

Public Sales
Are Scheduled

Mrs. Lucy Turner announces a public sale of 30 head of dairy cattle, Berkshire hogs, farm implements and feed for Monday, February 5th. Her son, Gregg Turner has been operating some branch of the armed service.

A large sale has been announced by John D. North and William Penn for Tuesday, February 6 on the farm located at the junction of the Jackson and Mill roads south-west of Pichin. Fifty-one head of dairy cattle will be offered along with 90 head of hogs, 67 head of sheep, farm implements and feed. The Turner and North-Penn sales are announced in this issue in full and will be interesting to farmers in this community.

Ferndale Farms announces a sale of 40 Hampshire sows bred for March and April farrow. The sale will be held on the farm Thursday, February 22 at 1 P. M. This will be the 33rd sale staged by Dobbins and Evans.

J. M. P. Eckard, who resides on what was formerly the Wade land; Federal Pike, announces a public sale for Saturday, Feb. 10th at one o'clock. Mr. P. Eckard is moving to Oregon and is retiring from active farming. His sale announcement appears in this issue.

Stunning blouses made of gay printed head squares are proving a "hit" fashion this season. It takes two large squares to make a blouse. Girls who can sew are making their own.

Detachable plique cuffs on suede-finished fabric gloves are new this spring. The cuffs button on, but the gloves are finished off so they can be worn without the cuffs if desired. You can get these plique-cuffed gloves in a variety of smart colors.

The collapsible hats which miliners are showing this spring are a very practical buy. They are so constructed to fold flat so as to save luggage space. All types are available including off-face styles, the new wide brims and little brimless headpieces of every description.

I the meantime farm leaders are predicting the development of a real food shortage if the drafting of essential farm workers continues—while Congressional desks are being snowed under with letters of protest from the farm sections of the country.

Someone down at the White House evidently believes that one dog is more important than three American fighting men, for last week it was known that an Army plane, for which they had a "C" priority, so an English Mastiff dog weighing 130 pounds, and occupying a large crate, being sent by Col. Elliott Roosevelt to his new bride, the actress Faye Emerson, could continue its air journey to California. The dog was traveling under an "A" priority issued by the War Department at the request of the White House. "A" priorities are granted only for travel of the utmost emergency importance, at the request of the White House, the Secretary of War, Secretary of the Navy, Chief of Staff of the Army, or the Chief of Naval Operations, and take precedence over all other priorities. The American people should be told who gave Colonel Roosevelt's dog the "A" priority, and by who's orders.

COLLEGE NEWS

The second semester is under way. All are happy that Mrs. Kling is able to resume her work, after absence during the first semester due to illness.

Sgt. Harold Guthrie of base unit 4000, A. A. F. B. U. called on friends last Sunday. He has been located at Wright Field for more than a year. The call for overseas service may come any time now.

Layden Wilson, 42, was in England last report. He is with the 76th Artillery Division.

A number of students and friends gathered at the home of Miss Helen Tannehill, Monday evening to help her celebrate her birthday anniversary. She could now vote if the proposed legislation to lower the voting age were in effect.

She who was Miss Beatrice Pyles, 34, left for California Monday morning with her husband, Daniel Vermillion, whom she married recently. Mr. Vermillion is in the naval service of his country and will report soon for further sea duty.

Dr. Gavin Riley, A. B. 26, represented Cedarville College at the Yale School for Study of Alcohol at Columbus, Wednesday of this week. Yale University, the Temperance Department of Education, Youth's League Against Alcohol, and other organizations interested in the study of the beverage alcohol problem sponsored the meeting.

Robert Taylor, '35, who is in the air service of his country returned from a trip into the Pacific the first of the month. A ten-day furlough enabled him to visit his wife, the former Eleanor Coulter, 24, and his little daughter. All the fellows home on a furlough agree that there are very few things that pass as rapidly as the days of a leave.

Lt. Reinhard, 42, addressed the student body Tuesday morning on the subject, "How and Officer Is Made." John received his bars at Bellvoir, Vir' gilia, a few days ago, after completing in 17 weeks an engineering course that ordinarily covers a year. He was the only one out of a large number of his group to make the grade. It's a dead sure thing that the army is not a democracy. One mistake and you're out. One student dropped his pencil—result, he flunked in algebra. The probabilities are that John will soon be building roads, bridges and the like over European waters.

CAPT. M. F. STORMONT SENT MAYO CLINIC FOR COURSE

Word has been received here that Capt. M. F. Stormont, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Stormont, has been sent to the Mayo Clinic for a twelve week instruction course in surgery given for medical officers of the Army.

Blouses of Mexican Influence Are Such Gay Little Flatterers!

By CHERIE NICHOLAS

SPRING'S in the air and far-sighted girls with an eye to week-ends are organizing their spring and summer wardrobes right now so as to be carefree when the great outdoors calls to sports and "off duty" recreation.

The big idea these days in regard to clothes is to "make your own." It is easy to sew, and if you plan your costumes so that with the aid of accessories and interchangeable parts they may be made to play a many-purpose role, you'll find that a very few things can go very far. A good suit especially, plus a collection of really attractive blouses, can take you anywhere in "style."

Blouses are tremendously important this year and they dress a suit up or down according to occasion. So start sewing today. There's a whole world of innovation and fashion news you can sew into each blouse. You are limited only by your imagination, which requires practically no outlay—just planning and doing with a will.

Of course, the first step is to choose your material. Cottons are a fine bet this year. Select your cottons carefully, eyelet embroidery for one, organdy for another and a good substantial and gaily colorful printed linen for a third. Each one of these will tub perfectly and you can see by the models pictured how pretty-pretty they will look.

The next big essential in making your own blouses is to get a smart easy-to-follow pattern. The same pattern has been used for each of the three beguiling blouses pictured, which is a good idea for the girl who does her own sewing. Using versatile materials will differentiate their appearance.

Prettiness itself is stressed in the pattern of simplicity selected for this trio of blouses. Throughout the entire style program simplicity is the big idea this spring. You see this demonstrated especially in the new blouses that feature naive low-cut necklines and quaint little puffed sleeves that definitely portray simplicity design. It adds to the lure of the blouses pictured that they are so in the Mexican in their picturesqueness.

The first of these blouses "lovelies" (pictured to the left) is made of a gay Mexican printed linen. It has one of the new adjustable drawstring necklines. Tied close to your throat it is simply perfect to wear right now with your spring suit. Later on the neckline can go more décolleté. Worn with the popular dirndl skirt you'll love it. Wear it for sports or dress as the mood moves you.

A big play is being made on fine white sheers sweetly fashioned with myriads of frivolous little ruffles, beautified with exquisite handwork. Centered in the group is a lovely blouse of sheerest white organdy. The pert little ruffles go definitely South American in that they take on gay colored embroidery accents. This model has the fashionable deep U-neckline that can be drawn high or low for out and out factory.

A dream of a blouse in spanking white eyelet embroidery is shown to the right. Wear it with a short skirt in the day—either a color - bright dirndl or a slim wrap-around crepe skirt. It makes good also as an evening blouse worn with a floor-length skirt. A soft ruffle around the neck and "little girl" puffed sleeves are your guarantee that this charming eyelet model, so definitely speaking "simplicity design," will make you look your most winsome. A huge Mexican straw hat worn with this blouse will stress the picturesque note.

More Milk and Cream

By Rapid Milking

Method Saves Labor,
Improves Herds' Health

Fast milking has become the order of the day. It is not a war necessity measure, although it does aid during time of labor scarcity. Fast milking not only results in a larger volume of milk but the butterfat content is often materially increased. The last milk is rich in fat as it represents the milk coming from the ruptured cells, which is less diluted.

The faster the milking, whether by hand or machine, the less chance there will be that any milk will be held up. At the Geneva, N. Y., station it was found that rapid milking decreased the amount of mastitis and udder troubles.

For fast milking, the stimuli must be right. With some cows this means feed, with others it might mean the noise of the milking machine or the milk pails, or it might be the washing and drying of the udder.

Whatever the stimuli, different cows respond to different stimuli, and the farmer must understand the individual reactions of his cows. At Massachusetts State college it was found possible to secure an additional quart of milk by the application of hot water to the teats and floor of the udder.

As a stimulus will last only six to seven minutes, it is essential that milking be started immediately. With machines it should not take more than four minutes to the cow. If the milking is not done immediately the hormone will be dissipated by the time the milking is started and incomplete milking will result. Cows should be gradually broken into the rapid method of milking, as they should to any other change in their management. As this method does away with stripping, it is a radical change for most cows, but one to which they will soon respond.

Agriculture
In the News

By W. J. DRYDEN

Nothing Wasted Here
Research work on plastics from farm wastes has developed new value in byproducts of the byproducts of farm crops, according to department of agriculture researchers. These "three-times removed" materials have been found of further use after study in government laboratories.

Typical of such crops having a wide variety of uses is corn. Penicillin uses "steep liquor" from this grain for its manufacture. But the cob was a byproduct. So the cob was ground and the harder parts gifted out to be used as an air blast ingredient for cleaning machined metal parts. The corn cob grits take off grease and loose bits of metal, but are not hard enough to scratch or grind down the machined metal. The cob "flour" left after the sifting process closely resembles wood flour, or finely ground wood, a raw material used in plastic manufacture. Experiments with the cob flour finally produced an excellent plastic, superior in some respects to wood flour plastics. That was the end of the line, since no waste remained with which to work.

Crossbreed Cattle

Crossbreeding has long been recognized in the plant world as a definite aid to vigor. Poultrymen have proven the benefits of crossbreeding for vigor. The crossbreeding of cattle may offer cattlemen a definite means of increasing beef production by the breeding of more vigor into beef cattle. Heavier weight, fewer digestive disorders, faster finishing of steers, more rapid growth of calves are some of the benefits to be secured by crossbreeding.

LOYALTY TO THE KINGDOM

LESSON TEXT—Matthew 6:33; 7:12, 16-23.
GOLDEN TEXT—Set ye first the Kingdom of God, and His righteousness; and all these things shall be added unto you.—Matthew 6:33.

In the kingdom of Christ there must be unquestioned loyalty. If then He is the King of our lives, we as Christian men and women will want to live in accordance with His blessed will.

Loyalty to Christ leads to the best kind of living. It surpasses any experience of loyalty to a cause or a human personality. Instead of hindering or limiting our development, it opens wide the grand vistas of a life altogether worth-while. It is a life.

I. Well Ordered (6:33).
Much of the distress in which men and women find themselves is caused by the fact that their lives are not well ordered. They live in a constant flurry of uncertainty, indecision and disorder. They have no proper center for their lives, and consequently they are lopsided and lacking in real usefulness.

See how delightfully right is the experience and activity of a follower of Christ. He is the center. The interests of His kingdom are the first in thought. His righteousness is the rule of life. Other things? Well, all that is necessary, God adds day by day.

When the center of life is right, everything else is right—when that is wrong, all is wrong. Is your life centered in Christ?

II. Kind (7:12).

Spiritual principles apply to daily living, to our attitude toward our fellow men. Here we have the so-called Golden Rule. It is not the way of salvation; it is a summary of the teaching of the law and the prophets. But it does provide us with a splendid principle of daily conduct.

Our active concern each day and in every touch with others is to be, "How would I like them to deal with me? Let me do thus to them." That is a far standard than you think until you really try it. Only Christ can enable you to do it.

III. Fruitful (7:16-20).

Two fruit trees or vines may look almost alike until the fruit appears, and then we learn the true character of each—whether good or bad. Every life brings forth some kind of fruit, and in its outward manifestation the life speaks of the inward condition of the life. Unpleasant and profane speech, hatred, dishonesty and evil deeds are the fruit of an evil heart. Righteousness, pure and kindly speech, thoughtful actions, honest and straightforward dealings—these speak of the good heart.

The one whose life is centered in Christ (see above) is a vine after God's own planting. His roots strike deep down into the grace and mercy of God, and his fruit is the Christ-like grace of Christian character (see Gal. 5:22, 23).

IV. Genuine (7:21-23).

Lip service will not do (v. 21). Even an imitation of the real service of God's people, but rendered without the backing of a life of faith, will result only in disappointment and our Lord's own disavowal (vv. 22, 23).

The opposite of that is equally true. The real child of God works for Christ; he speaks of his Lord, and calls on his name. But in and through all there is the evident ring of sincerity and genuineness which marks it as the real thing.

One does not hear much mention these days of hypocrites in the church. Perhaps we are too polite to speak of them, or it may be that we think them too obvious to need pointing out. But they are there, going through the motions of a Christian life, talking the language, and imitating the works, but completely dead spiritually.

V. Well Grounded (7:24-29).

The figure of speech changes. Instead of being likened to fruit trees, men's lives are said to be like houses, with their various kinds of foundations and superstructures. The figure is an interesting and instructive one. There is only one foundation upon which one can build a Christian life. "Other foundation can no man lay than that is laid, which is Jesus Christ" (1 Cor. 3:11).

Therein lies the folly of the modernist or liberal. He has denied and rejected the only foundation—and yet tries to build a house of Christian character. When the real problems of life strike, he goes down in ruin.

On the other hand, let no Christian who has laid a foundation on the rock fail to go on and build upon it. Thus grounded, his house of faith will stand though the wind and rain and floods of life seek to tear it down. Of that kind of house we are told that "it fell not; for it was founded upon a rock" (v. 25).

SUPPOSE THAT YOU COULD FLICK A SWITCH
AND GET A SIZZLING STEAK!

Be wonderful, wouldn't it? Sizzle... sizz... m-m-m-m... a-a-a-ah!

"But," you say, "steaks are scarce and expensive. Steaks are rationed. Steaks have gone to war."

That's right—and there are good reasons why.

But is it any less wonderful that you CAN still get electric service at the flick of a switch—without shortage or rationing—at low pre-war prices—when vast amounts of electricity have gone to war plants?

Our folks have done their war jobs so quietly and well that it's easy to take 'em for granted. We hope you won't—that you'll remember their hard work as you use radio, refrigerator, washer, cleaner and the other electric servants that make wartime living so much easier.

What you can take for granted is the fact that your friends in this company will provide plenty of low-priced electricity to run the mechanical marvels in your post-war home.
